PebbleBash ‘16 - Conference Overview & Prices
The most thoughtfully constructed conference I have attended in a long while.

This year’s PebbleBash theme.

The idea of future readiness will form the overarching theme for PebbleBash ’16. We imagine this term will mean different things to different people (and that’s great) but if we were asked to sum up what it means to us, we’d have to say it’s all about how organisations support and fully prepare graduates and employees for a changing and ever more competitive world.
When and where is it all happening?

The conference will take place on 12th - 14th September at the University of Wolverhampton’s Telford Campus, the place where PebblePad started life more than a decade ago, when some of our team would have still been at school, HTML5 was the stuff of futuristic movies containing hoverboards, and Shane was, well, Shane! The evening fun, dinner, and awards will take place at Enginuity - one of the Ironbridge Gorge Museums.
Having our fourth global conference at a venue that takes us back to our roots, and at a place renowned for its connection to innovation in industry, seemed like too good an opportunity to pass up.
Totally enjoyed the conference. Great sense of community going on. Well organised, great attention to detail, well done!

Highly interactive, super informative, and always good fun. We have the challenge of making sure our workshops live up to expectations, leaving you with the challenge of not only choosing which session you’d most like to attend during the day, but also what scrumptious delights you’d like to enjoy with your new friends at the evening meal in the beautiful Ironbridge.

Schedule subject to change
It was great to attend a conference where every session was beneficial and relevant to me.

The main conference (12th - 14th September).

3 captivating keynotes, a flurry of ignite sessions, 2 days of practitioner-led breakout sessions, a plethora of posters, a team of passionate developers sharing what they are proud to be working on, a fabulous dinner and great entertainment, and the chance for you to meet new friends, suggest great ideas, laugh, learn, reflect, and then learn some more.

In short, PebbleBash will give you the warm feeling you get from time spent with like-minded folk, and the buzz you get from generating bright ideas on how to help your organisation and your learners become truly future ready. And, that’s right, absolutely no mention of cake. But it goes without saying - there will be cake.
